5 O'clock Edition! CROPS IN KANSAS.

La Grippe Epidemic
in London.

HALE BOUGHT A BATTLE FIELD.

Malvern Hill Captured By A New Yorker.

Quarantine Rescinded by Uncle
Jerry Rusk.

Smokeless Powder.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—In light of the highly satisfactory results recently obtained with the new brand of smokeless powder of American make, the ordinance officials are now convinced it is only a question of a few months before the army and navy will be able to adopt the new standard powder, equal in efficiency to any foreign powder. In truth, the best result obtained by the navy has been from the brand manufactured under the supervision of Commander Jewel at Newport. It is considered quite as good as any foreign brand and better than those submitted by parties for trial. But the naval authorities hope to reach a still higher degree of perfection before adopting a standard brand.

The army ordinance officials have made little progress with their powder, but in their efforts to obtain suitable powder for the new 30-caliber rifles, they have made a great many experiments with samples submitted by private inventors. The most satisfactory powder was submitted by Warren B. Houghton of North Adams, Mass., and shows the best results yet obtained with any smokeless powder. This new American powder is free from smoke, is odorless and gives a progressive rate in burning. It is uniform and the action does not foul the piece and is supposed to have good keeping qualities, though this point will take time to determine.

Street Car Strike.

DETROIT, April 21.—Some lines of the Detroit street railroad company are tied up this morning, and others are running under police protection as the result of a strike of 150 conductors and drivers. It is not known for what reason the strike is made.

LATELY the trouble was caused by railway officials refusing to reconsider their decision in regard to discharging several employees, and in regard to a change in the method of the payment of wages. It is thought the trouble will be short lived and will end in a total rout of the men whose action is considered ill-advised.

Quarantine Rescinded.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.), April 21.—After a conference between Secretary Rusk and many prominent stockmen from Colorado, Wyoming and other States, the Secretary of Agriculture rescinded his recent order moving the quarantine line south of the thirty-sixth parallel. This leaves the quarantine line same as before.

La Grippe.

LONDON, April 21.—One-third of the members of the National Liberal Club and a majority of the inmates of one of the largest hotels are down with disease. The extension of the epidemic is favored by the weather. Telegrams from Leeds and Sheffield report a similar state of affairs.

Trouble Continues.

PITTSBURGH, April 21.—Four carloads of heavily armed Pinkerton guards arrived in the coke regions to-day. It is thought these men will take the places of the militia, as the Governor will not allow the national guards to be used to evict strikers.

Crops in Kansas.

ST. LOUIS, April 21.—A dispatch says the continued wet weather of Eastern Kansas will probably cause a failure of the oat, corn and potato crops. Wheat, however, is not affected except in low lands.

Bought a Battle Field.

RICHMOND (Va.), April 21.—Malvern Hill, twelve miles below this city, the scene of one of the most famous battles during the late war, has just been sold to W. H. H. Hale of New York City.

Mutiny of the Guards.

LONDON, April 21.—There was great excitement in military circles this morning when the men of the Third battalion, grenadier guards, quartered at the Chelsea barracks in this city, refused to obey an order to parade in full marching order. The oldest members were the more discontented portion of the battalion, and the men having the longest terms of service were placed under arrest and an investigation into the cause of the mutiny commenced. The men declare they have been long subjected to a series of exclusively annoying drills for which there is no cause or reason. They say the drills are not ordered with a view of perfecting the battalion in military maneuvers in the manual of arms, but solely for the convenience of their officers.

A Stopping Watch.

HOBOKEN (N. J.), April 21.—A fight took place last night between Dan Egan, the "Montana Kid," and Frank Cavanaugh of Newark. Egan is five feet eight inches in height and weighed 147½ pounds, and Cavanaugh was a pound and a half lighter and three inches shorter. From the start Cavanaugh was not in it. Egan did all the fighting, and Cavanaugh after the fourth round only escaped being knocked out by ducking. In the tenth round he was repeatedly knocked down, and the referee seeing no chance for him gave the fight to Egan.

Not a Wrecker.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Jay Gould and party stopped here on their way to Chicago. S. H. Clark, speaking for Gould, says the statement sent from Denver to the effect that he intended to wreck the Western Passenger Association is wholly false. Furthermore the Western Passenger Association was his pet scheme, and that so far from destroying it he would support it.

Strike in Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, April 21.—A general lock-out of stone masons was inaugurated in Pittsburgh and Allegheny this morning by the Master Masons' Association. The trouble arose over the employment of non-union men, and the action of the Master Masons may result in precipitating a lockout of all men engaged in the building trades.

Montana Republican.

CHICAGO, April 21.—A Helena, Mont., special says full reports from the Montana municipal elections show the Republicans captured every city in which party lines were drawn except in Butte, where the Democrats elected the Mayor and a majority of the council.

FATAL MINING ACCIDENT.

Felix Lalonde Falls to His Death
Down a Chute in the C. & C.
The Chronicle of last evening notes a fatal accident as follows: Last night about 12 o'clock an accident occurred in the C. & C. which resulted in the death of Felix Lalonde, a French Canadian. Deceased and his partner, John Bouchard, went on shift at 11 o'clock, and had been removing pay rock from a chute leading to the 1650 level, preparatory to sending down waste. When the chute was cleared Bouchard, who was on the second floor, hallooed up to Lalonde, who was on the fifth floor, that the chute was ready for the waste. A few minutes after a pile of rock, broken timbers and a cloud of dust came thundering down, and Bouchard started to go to the upper floor. After going a short distance and hearing groans, he returned to the second floor and found Lalonde lying among the rubbish in the chute. He was found to be severely bruised and his skull badly crushed by the fall from the fifth to the second floor, a distance of 21 feet. The injured man lingered until 5 this morning, when he died.

WHITE PINE COUNTY.

A Strike in the Joanna Mine—
Preparing for Milling.
The News of the 18th instant says: The District Court will convene in Ely on May 4th. As there is no criminal business on the docket it is not likely a grand jury will be drawn at this session.

W. G. Lyons is putting the Ely mill in order for a run. John Mungason and his fellow lessees in the Joanna will first run through 200 tons of ore they have on the dump, after which the mill company will start in on Chalmers ore.

Wm. Larson, one of the lessees in the Joanna mine, was in town Thursday evening, looking for some miners to help him and his fellow lessees extract ore. Billy says he has run into a 40-foot body of fine grade ore, and, naturally, he wants to get out as much of it as he can before the mine changes hands.

San Francisco Meat Market.

Following are the rates for whole carcasses from slaughterers to dealers: BEEF—First quality, 3½¢; second quality, 3¢; third quality, 2½¢. PORK—Live hogs, on foot, grain fed, heavy 50¢; light, 45¢; dressed Hogs, 35¢.

HARRISON HONORED.

By Two Republics at El Paso.

MEXICO EXTENDS A GREETING.

Republican Alliance in Session at Cincinnati.

Funeral Services Over Bishop
Gilmour

Honored by Two Republics.

EL PASO (Tex.), April 21.—The Presidential party arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning. The reception here was a perfect ovation, Americans and Mexican representatives of President Diaz vying with each other in their efforts to honor President Harrison. The city was elaborately decorated with American and Mexican colors and troops of both countries were drawn up at the station to receive the distinguished visitor. When the party alighted from the train a salute of 21 guns was fired.

Governor Curillo of Chihuahua and his staff and General Rangel with artillery and the military band participated in the reception as representatives of President Diaz of Mexico, who was unable to be present.

The Chief Magistrate was received by the committee and escorted to his carriage, an open barouch drawn by four gray horses. Seated with him were Governor Curillo, General Rangel of Mexico and General McCook. The other members of the party occupied carriages with prominent local and Mexican officials. The procession when formed included United States and Mexican troops, Grand Army posts, Confederate Veterans, the fire department, civic organizations and colored citizens. The distinguished visitors were escorted to the courthouse, where a formal address was made. When the procession reached the nearest point to the Mexican artillery that country fired a salute in honor of President Harrison.

Republican League.

CINCINNATI, April 21.—Soon after 1 o'clock President Thurston called the convention to order. After prayer W. S. Squires, President of the Ohio League, spoke. Mayor Mosby made the opening address of welcome and was followed by ex-Governor Foraker, who welcomed the delegates on behalf of the State, and after a reply to the speeches, President Thurston delivered his address.

He described at considerable length the objects of the league and said it had no desire to assume control of the party machinery or usurp the functions of any committee entrusted with the campaign management. It addressed itself to the intelligence and patriotism of the American people and proposed, by honest methods and fair means, to commend Republican principles in their judgment. The membership of the league, he said, was already a million, made up of men from every walk in life.

Speaking of the Farmers' Alliance movement, he said it is important that it must not be underestimated by the Republican party. The hope of the Democratic party to-day, he declared, was based on its ability to combine with the Alliance on the electoral tickets of the Western States and thereby throw the election of the President into the House of Representatives. He said if the Republicans expected to hold the allegiance of the Western people, they must see to it that Western interests are recognized and Western demands given fair consideration in legislative and administrative affairs.

Press Convention.

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—The Southern California Editorial Association have elected their President, Scipio Craig and H. Z. Osborn, editor of the Los Angeles Evening Express, delegates to the National Press Convention at St. Paul, July 14th. They will co-operate with the Northern California Editorial Association to bring the session of the National Association to California next year.

Fourth of July.

REDWOOD CITY, April 21.—Extensive efforts are being undertaken here for the celebration of the Fourth of July. At a meeting for $500 was subscribed. It is intended to make it a county affair. State Senator Frank McGowan of Humboldt county will deliver the oration.

Bishop Gilmour's Funeral.

CLEVELAND, April 21.—The funeral of the late Bishop Gilmour took place this morning at St. Johns Cathedral with much pomp and ceremony. Fully 2,500 persons were present.

The funeral remains which were dressed in full robes of office of the deceased, rested in a black casket on a canopied catafalque, immediately in front of the main altar. There were no flowers. Shortly before 9 o'clock, Monsignor Boff entered the chancel accompanied by several assistants, and when he had retired, a priest began chanting psalms, which was continued until the service proper commenced. Just prior to the service, the following dignitaries of the church, in royal purple robes of their office, entered and took their seats within the sanctuary: Rev. John Ireland, Archbishop of St. Paul; Rev. Francis Chataud, Bishop Vincennes; Rev. Edward Fitzgerald, Bishop of Little Rock; Rev. Bernard J. McQuaid, Bishop of Rochester; Rev. Joseph Rademacher, Bishop of Nashville; Rev. John A. Watterson, Bishop of Columbus; Rev. William O'Hara, Bishop of Covington; Rev. C. Phelan, Bishop of Pittsburgh; Rev. P. A. Ludden, Bishop of Syracuse; Rev. J. McGovern, Bishop of Harrisburg and Right Rev. Tobias Mullen, Bishop of Erie. Pontifical high mass was celebrated. Celebrated mass was by Rev. William H. Elder, Archbishop of Cincinnati.

All during the services priests in the body of the church held lighted candles in their hands. At the close Rev. McQuid delivered the funeral sermon. At the close of the sermon the office for the dead was performed; six bishops wearing mitres assembled about the casket and prayers were said and psalms chanted. A responsive service, in which the priests in the body of the church joined, followed. The casket was then sealed and carried to the basement of the cathedral by eight priests. It was then placed in a stone sarcophagus and laid at rest in the crypt.

Hedberg Identified.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—This morning detective Whittaker and Mrs. Ellen Brown returned from Colinsville and reported to Chief Crowley that the body recovered from the water on Sunday last by Italian fishermen was without doubt that of Andrew Hedberg, the murderer of Mrs. Emily Fossum. Both wrists had deep gashes in them, but the veins in both cases were untouched. It is supposed that when Hedberg learned he was suspected, he attempted to end his life and inflicted wounds, but finding death was coming too slowly, walked down to the river, a distance of over one mile, and threw himself in. Deputy Coroner Dozier of Solano county held an inquest last evening.

The jury found that his name was Hedberg, thirty-eight years of age and a native of Germany, and that he came to his death by suicide.

Preparing for the President.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—The committee that have the reception of President Harrison in charge are hard at work, and preparations for a grand display are going steadily on. The Finance Committee had a meeting to-day in the Palace Hotel for the purpose of receiving an account of collections, and also to devise ways and means to secure more money. The Chairman presented a list of collections which foot up a total of $11,000. The General Committee has appropriated to various sub-committees $13,800, which leaves a deficit of $2,200. In order to make this up the Finance Committee has opened subscription books for the general public.

Fatal Accident.

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.), April 21.—Somebody removed the fish plates and caused the rails to spread, wrecking a passenger train on the Alabama & Great Northern road early this morning, near Springville. The engineer and fireman were scalded to death, but none of the passengers were injured. It is not known who the miscreants are.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The rainy weather continues in all districts in Missouri and the Mississippi valleys. In the eastern districts fair weather prevails. The temperature has fallen six to ten degrees in New England and the Middle Atlantic States, and has risen ten degrees in the Lake regions. Elsewhere it has remained about stationary.

Blood Horse Races.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—The Stanford purse, mile and one-eighth, was won by Renfax; Kylo second and Hotspur third. Time, 1:56½.

Grain Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Wheat, buyer 91, 190¢; season, 189¢; barley, buyer season, 184.

A Cracksmen Caged.

PLACERVILLE, April 21.—John Woods, who was captured on the night of April 2d burglarizing the store of B. F. Shepherd at Georgetown, plead guilty before the Superior Court to-day and was sentenced to imprisonment at San Quentin for twenty years. Woods is an old and notorious burglar and safe cracker.

Oregon News.

PORTLAND, April 21.—Helen Christin, a domestic employed by Joseph Holder, was so badly burned by the upsetting of a lamp yesterday that she will probably die.

The North Pacific Board of Presbyterian Mission began their annual session here to-day.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

It is rumored an important Liverpool cotton firm is in difficulties. At New York gold amounting to 500,000 ounces is ordered for export. At New York a million and a half of gold was ordered for export to-day. At Pittsburgh employment was given to 2,000 men to-day by the resumption of the Edgar Thompson steel works.

The 25th ballot of the Democratic Senatorial caucus at Tallahassee, Fla., resulted as follows: Call 56, Spear 39, Bloxam 2. William Muscoe, alias Jordo, a negro who murdered a policeman three years ago at Charlottesville, Va., was hanged this morning.

At Indianapolis John Scarry, aged 55, a real estate broker, after making his will shot the top of his head off last night. His wife recently sued him for a divorce.

Death of Dan Davis

The Virginia Chronicle of last evening notes the death of one of Nevada's pioneers. It says: Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon, Dan Davis, who has been employed as barkeeper at the International saloon, dropped dead. Mr. Davis was entering the front gate at his residence when he was seen to stagger and fall. Persons near by hastened to pick him up and Dr. Richardson was summoned. When the doctor arrived the man was dead, and no doubt was then picked up. It is presumed death resulted from heart failure, as Mr. Davis had suffered from heart disease.

And thus passed away genial Dan Davis, whose calling was against his inclinations, and whose love for a life of domesticity was illustrated in his last act. He was going home, as was his custom for years as soon as his watch ended, where all his affections were centered and loyal throughout a life of excitement and chance. He was well known in Aurora in the earliest days and later in Austin when he was engaged in business, but for many years past he had resided in Virginia City where he died. Peace to his ashes.

BREYFOGLE MINES.

The Fever Spreading and Malaria Going.
The Chlorid Belt of the 18th inst. says: The Breyfogle fever is spreading. A man named Collins arrived in Palmto this week with $1,800 in gold, which he claimed to have panned out in a mortar in the ten days in which he was in the new district. C. Shaber and A. McArthur leave for Breyfogle in the morning. M. J. Fiammas, J. McNulty, V. Coschina and C. Ferrero, start Tuesday next. Jack Knapp and another man whose name we could not learn started for the scene of excitement Wednesday last. By wagon road the Breyfogle mine is 200 miles from Candelaria. The road is a good one, water being within a day's journey in all cases excepting between Amargosa and Ash Meadows, a distance of 55 miles where it is necessary to pack it. Nevada miners will find Candelaria a good place to start from.

Cattle For Omaha.

Dr. Patterson has succeeded in getting a rate on cattle to Omaha, and will ship a train load of beef cattle to that city in a day or two. John Sebold will also ship a train load to the same place. The Southern Pacific Company are to furnish the shippers with regular U. P. stock cars, so arranged that the cattle can eat all the time from the racks provided. The shipping of cattle to an eastern market is an experiment with western feeders. Dr. Patterson and Mr. Sebold being the first to try it, and the GAZETTE wishes them plenty of luck.

Study up Your Geography.

An item has been going the rounds of the press for the past three weeks setting forth the fact that a Sacramento engineer has been engaged in Long Valley, Nevada, all winter making surveys, etc. As the item appeared originally in the GAZETTE some three weeks or more ago, and distinctly stated Long Valley, California, we would suggest that our exchanges study up their geography a little before misquoting a cribbed item of such general interest to the public.

Deep Creek Railroad.

The Salt Lake Tribune of the 19th inst. says: James H. Bacon goes to New York this morning on the early train, and will while absent secure the funds to build the line to the Deep Creek country. He will be away for three or four weeks and the work will begin as soon as he returns. W. H. Jones said yesterday that the road would be completed this summer and that cars would be running before the snow flies again.

Justice Court.

The case of Amos Alt vs Susan Church which was tried in the Justice Court yesterday, was decided in favor of the defendant.

A. M. Tolson is in from Churchill county to-day. He reports everything O. K. in his section.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION

THE Carson correspondent of the Journal who signs himself "A Stalwart Republican," is anything but a Republican. We suspect that he is a born and bred Democrat from away back, sailing under false colors. Be that as it may, however, he insults every farmer in the universe, and for a purpose, and that purpose is to get Democratic strength. His communication is covered by a very thin gauze, and is hardly worthy of even this brief notice. Nearly all of our great men spring from the loins of respectable labor, either on the farm, in the workshop, or in the mine. Lincoln spent his youth on his father's farm in Indiana; he served an apprenticeship on a flat boat on the Mississippi, and by the light of the midnight oil picked up an education that enabled him to conduct one of the greatest wars ever waged to a successful issue. Garfield was a farmer first, second a day laborer, and afterwards a driver on the Pennsylvania and Ohio canal. We might go on and name an endless list of men who have risen to prominence, who spent their early lives on the farm. In fact the farmer is what holds this great nation together, and if he did not exist in this country it would be mighty poor picking for the rest of us. From the tenor of "A Stalwart Republican's" letter, we are justified in the conclusion that he is a wolf in sheep's clothing, a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat of the old Virginia or Kentucky variety, and is writing to the Journal for a purpose.

THE good broad sense of the speeches which the President is making on his present tour, cannot fail to attract general attention. His speech at Galveston, yesterday, was noticeable not only for its general soundness and calm judicial tone, but also for the boldness with which he handled some of the questions treated. In the speeches which General Harrison delivered during the campaign which resulted in his election, he never made a slip or a blunder. He is now visiting parts of the country where political views antagonistic to those which he entertains are firmly held, but while stating his opinions freely and openly, he has not so far as the reports go, offended anybody. He has been treated well everywhere and his trip is productive of nothing else, shows that the bitterness of the past has nearly all disappeared. President Harrison talks well on every subject which he handles.

THE Italian Government proposes to give free passage to the United States to the informers and other witnesses in the recent Mala Vita prosecution. It is probable that the informers are little better than those on whom they informed and in any event why should Italian feuds be transferred to the United States. The proverbial fate of the informer is as likely to overtake them at the hands of their countrymen here as there. La vendetta does not stop for 3,000 miles of salt water.

THE Kansas City Star manifests its unhappiness in this backwoods style: California appropriated $300,000 for an exhibit at the World's Fair. There is a certain munificence about the people of Golden State which never fails to manifest itself, whether in the matter of purchasing a seat in the United States Senate, a scheme to advertise the resources of the State, the founding of institutions of learning, or what not.

WHEAT and freight have gone up together and the British shipowner proposes to make the bulk of the profit. An active American competition in the ocean carrying trade would not only benefit growers and consumers by tending to keep down freights, but would also enable American ship-owners to make whatever profit may be going.

THE Minnesota Legislature has killed the "Anti-tights" bill. If it could professionally kill some of the "antiques and horrors" who pose for the gratification of audiences, it would confer a favor on a long-suffering public.

COLLEGE NICKNAMES.

They Are Queer Things, but All "Good Fellows" Have Them.
College nicknames are queer things, anyway. A student is, as the phrase goes, "no good" unless he has a nickname, and a professor has no place in the college world unless he has a label of this sort. Nicknames for the undergraduates are generally fixed early in the college career, and often express the sophomore idea of a freshman's characteristics. With the professors it is different, for their nicknames are based on traditions dear to the college heart, says a writer in the New York Tribune. Thus, a professor goes along from year to year with the label fastened upon him way back in the fifties it may be, and, queerly enough, time, which changes all things, never sees fit to question the appropriateness of these nicknames or to change an old one for a new one.
The president is sure to have a handle to his name. He may be "Prexy," as at Yale; "Jimmy," as every graduate of Princeton loves to call ex-President McCosh, or "Charlie," as they dub President Eliot at Harvard. For the professors there are a thousand and one names suggested by personal characteristics, affiliations, duties, habits, etc. A college in New Jersey, where nicknames are as thick as leaves in Vallombrosa, has its "Dean," its "Duff," its "Charlie," a gray-haired reverend; its "General," an old army officer; its "Daddy," a fatherless teacher; its "Pat," from Erin's Isle; its "Big Mac," so called because there is no "Little Mac" there; its "Sister," its "Baby," its "Granny," its "Patty," its "Mary," its "Billy," etc., etc., and so on through all sorts of ludicrous names suggestive, at least to the student, of some well-known peculiarity of the person whose name has been taken in vain. Of course the professor is aware of the fact that he is dubbed in this undignified way, but nothing he can do or say can change the sanction of tradition, and the nickname sticks.
With the students the range of sobriquets is wider and more varied, a condition due to the close relations between the nicknamer and the nicknamed. Some well defined rules obtain, however, which show there is some method in this phase of undergraduate madness. Surnames often carry the same nicknames, although the persons may not be related, and may be separated by five or ten years in the time of their residence at college. For instance, Jones, '79, is dubbed "Black," and the chances are excellent that Jones, '80, will receive the same nickname. Why, no one knows, but it is a curious instance of persistent personality. Again, nicknames received previously at school or at home count for naught, for the collegian is no respecter of traditions outside of the college world. So "Billy" becomes "Sister," "Jack" is transformed into "Reddy," "Joe" is elevated into "Senator," etc.

A DEPARTMENTAL PICTURE.

The Pleasant Situation of a Chief of a Government Bureau.
I saw a picture in one of the bureaus of the customs divisions in the treasury department yesterday, a picture which explains, perhaps, the chief charm of official existence, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune. Here was a great, round, portly, comfortable-looking chief of a bureau. He was in a large, elegantly-furnished room, well lighted and ventilated. A bright wood fire sparkled under a broad oak mantel at one side of the room. He sat in a great leather-cushioned chair, at one side of a blue-covered desk, littered with papers. Upon the opposite side of this broad desk sat a blonde-haired, regular-featured, ladylike looking typewriter secretary. She was neatly dressed in black. She sat with her note-book in front of her, pencil poised, and a look of earnest devotion to duty in her eyes, as she gazed into the rugged-featured face of her chief, ready to take down every word he should utter. At his left, in response to a call of an electric bell, stood a colored servant, dressed in black, in an attitude of respectful attention. At his right was a chief of division, also bowing low as he presented a knotty point involving some construction of the tariff law for the consideration of the mighty intellect of his chief. At the doors on the right and the left stood messengers and clerks in attitudes of frozen attention gazing at the dignitary who sat enthroned in the center of the room, not daring to advance until he should nod his Jovellike head. At the moment of my call official duty for the moment had relaxed. The dignitary turned from the mighty task of oiling the wheels of the government of the United States and was relating a pleasant story. Every face was turned with a prepared smile which foreboded the hearty laughter sure to come at the end of the story. It was an interesting picture, and perhaps explains the happiness that men have in official life and their reluctance to retiring to the rude buffets and cold disreputable often found in the transaction of private business.

Could Not See Beyond His Nose.
Volkovsky, a Russian exile, while lecturing at Hampton, Eng., related a desperate artifice to which he once resorted. A police official once searched his home for compromising papers. At the time there was in his possession a certain document the discovery of which meant serious danger, not only to himself, but also to his friends. Volkovsky was desperate, for it was quite certain that the document would be found. But a daring trick saved him. He coolly handed the document to the official, who scarcely glanced at it and handed it back. Thus, after the most minute search, the official, his nose blackened with soot and his hair decorated with feathers—for he had even examined the stovepipes and the bedding—had to depart empty-handed.

Performed for a Thousand Years.
The mosque of St. Sophia, in Constantinople, is always fragrant with the odor of musk, and has been so for hundreds of years, ever since it was rebuilt in the ninth century, the curious part of it being that nothing is done to keep it perfumed. The solution to the seeming mystery lies in the fact that when built, over one thousand years ago, the stones and bricks were laid in mortar mixed with a solution of musk.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Our Motto

"A dollar's worth for a dollar" is the motto of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla, and other well-known vegetable remedies, and is pronounced by experts the strongest and best preparation of the kind ever produced. It owes its peculiar strength and medicinal merit to the fact that it is prepared by a combination, proportion, and process peculiar to itself, discovered by the proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and known to no other medicine. Its prompt action on the blood removes all impurities, and cures scrofula, salt rheum, sores, boils, pimples, all humors, and all diseases or ailments arising from impure blood or low state of the system. "I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and find it to be the best blood purifier I have ever used." Mrs. H. FIELD, Auburn, Cal.
The Best Medicine.
"I have used six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla for indigestion. It has helped me a great deal. I think it is the best medicine for indigestion and dyspepsia." Mrs. N. A. LUNDGREN, 128 North Fifth Street, San Jose, Cal.

Sealed Proposals.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT UNTIL 12 o'clock, noon, Monday, May 4, 1891, the Board of County Commissioners of Washoe County will receive sealed proposals for medical and surgical attendance on inmates of the County Hospital, County Jail and all indigent poor of the county, for one year, from and after the first Monday in May 1891. The successful bidder will be required to make at least one visit per day to the County Hospital, and as much often as his services may be required; to attend patients in the County Jail, and the indigent poor of the county, and provide, at his own expense, all medicines and surgical instruments and appliances required; make post mortem examinations when required by the county, conduct examinations in lunacy, and do all other assistance needed at his own expense. When he is called to visit a county patient more than one mile from the Courthouse, he will be allowed his actual and necessary traveling expenses. The successful bidder will be required to enter into bonds with the county of Washoe in the sum of two thousand dollars, with at least two sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, for the faithful performance of his contract. No bill will be considered unless it be from a thorough first-class physician, who can show a diploma from some medical college of repute. All proposals should be addressed to the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, and plainly marked "Bids for Services of County Physician." The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
By order of the Board,
Reno, April 6, 1891. G. H. PERRY, Clerk.

A SCARED EDITOR.

A rugged farmer stalked into the sanctum with a big whip under his arm. "Be you the editor?" "I am," was the half apprehensive reply.

"Here's two dollars—send me your paper, for life," he said.

"You see," he went on, "our daughter was sick and pale, had headaches, no appetite, back ached, hands and feet like lead, couldn't sleep, backed with cough, and we thought she had consumption. No medicine helped her until she tried that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription mentioned in your paper, when she began to mend in no time and is now well and handsome as a rose—but no down as a life subscriber."

Now the editor is looking for another source. The medicine has cured thousands afflicted as was the farmer's daughter, restoring the female functions to healthy action and removing the obstructions and suppressions which caused her trouble. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded. It's a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Contains no alcohol or injurious drugs, no sugar to ferment in the stomach and derange digestion.

THE WOES OF "CABBY."

Innumerable Hardships Are His to Bear.

He is Subjected—Alike to Disagreeable People and Inclement Weather and is Poorly Paid for His Services.

"Talk about a policeman's lot being an unhappy one," said a veteran hack driver the other evening to a New York Herald man, "well, you can lay large, gloomy and peculiar wagers that I will swap lots with any police man on the east or west side—or, for that matter, with any one of the squad in the toughest district in the city. I guess you don't know what we drivers have to put up with, or the great difference in the kind of parties we have to drive. Why, before now I have had parties take me to the Astor house and give me an order to drive them to Fifty-ninth street, and when I would get out at the address given me I would climb off the box to open the door for my passenger and collect my fare, when, lo! presto, change! the hack would be empty. The Lord knows where my freight got out, but most probably somewhere between Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets. I don't see how they do it so quietly, for it makes some noise to open a hack door and takes some practice to jump out safely. But they do it somehow, and I suppose it is partly due to our getting tired and sleepy with our day's work."

"Then, I sometimes run across a hard crowd, and when I try to collect at the end of the route they 'give me the laugh,' and I know that if I insist I will only get half killed. Policemen we never near, either. Oh, I don't blame them, for if I was one I would hide, too."

"Another thing that troubles a driver awfully is waiting—waiting, perhaps in a pouring rain—for a man never went into a house yet without saying that he would be out in a few minutes. And you never can tell when they will come, either. If they would only say how long in the first place, it would be easier, for then you could drive off to some convenient spot, or else curl up and go to sleep quietly inside, in case the gentleman didn't give you a cigar to comfort you. And, speaking of cigars, it is astonishing how few fees drivers get. A man will fee his waiter, his barber, his porter, his chambermaid or any people in such employment, but he seldom thinks of offering the driver anything but a cigar or a drink. Yet a driver has a hard time, and his wages are not large, either, to say nothing of the responsibility resting on him in the way of careful driving, finding the way, etc."

"Still, I have known people to give me money occasionally, and in this line I think actors are more generous than others. There is one lady, in particular—the wife of a star actor—who never fails to give me at least fifty cents over and above the fare I have to turn in to the boss. I never enjoy shopping except when I go with her."

"Speaking of ladies, I suppose they are worse than anybody else at keeping you waiting. The trouble with them is that they get as far as the door of a house and there they stand. Why, I have jumped up and down off my box a dozen times just because every time they have opened the house door she would close it again and continue her conversation. Of course it fooled me, as I wanted to be ready to open the carriage door for her."

"Theater parties and parties who want to be taken to the stations are pretty good jobs, as the distances are almost always short and direct and there are generally several in the party. Another thing a driver has to do is to use judgment as to how he drives, according to the party inside and the occasion. Often have I had a young fellow press fifty cents into my hand when I would be driving him home from the theater with his girl and whisper: 'Drive slow as you can, please, and go a long way.' Well, sir, perhaps those same people would take me again a year or two afterward, and I could tell they were married, because the fellow would gather in the carriage and shut the door, saying: 'Good night, dear; will be home soon. I just want to look in at the Hoffman house; business engagement. Man takes an early train; be up in half an hour.'

"When you are driving swells home from the theater with their wives you want to drive fast, you know, so that they can get back to their clubs at a decent hour. Everyone knows that you want to go slow at funerals and fast to trains, but for the little fine details a driver has got to have judgment."

"What's that? Well, thank you, sir, don't care if I do. Very much obliged. Good night, sir, and please don't mention my name."

They Put it to a Vote.
Down at one of the big St. Augustine hotels there has been a controversy about the dinner hour—whether it should be at six or one o'clock. A ballot was finally taken and the matter decided in true American style. A majority of thirty-five favored a late dinner, and accordingly a late dinner it is. The young women guests of the place, says the New York Times, took a spirited part in the contest, voting in a solid phalanx for the six o'clock service, and it is needless to say they electioneered among the sterner sex to good purpose. Dinner gowns are much more effective by daylight, are, in fact, not admissible in their full elegance at the noon meal, and everybody knows to what lengths a woman will go when she is fighting for the effect of a pretty frock. If the mid-day dinner be abolished at winter resort, hotels—it is possible that it will be done away with at summer watering places, notably at Saratoga, where its existence is a serious blot upon the happiness of midsummer life at that charming resort.

Winter in Finland.
Finns have to battle with the hardness of Arctic winter from November until May, and the ice during this dark period blocks all trade with foreign countries. To remedy this the Finnish government has had an ice-breaker specially constructed strong enough to force the severest of ice, and although it cost upwards of 1,000,000 marks, the Finns do not regret the money.

TRAVEL IN RUSSIA.

Those Who Travel Through the Car's Domains Must Submit to Inconveniences. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says: "You must furnish your own bedding, pillows, wraps, towels, etc., and as all travelers in Russia as a general thing have them you are not much inconvenienced, except at times, when you cannot unroll. The great trouble is from the unusual amount of bundles and traps of all sorts that passengers are permitted to take into the cars with them, oftentimes thereby infringing upon the rights of others in the occupying of all the racks and most of the desirable seats, especially so when often upon trains of from ten to twelve passenger cars there is no more than one half of a car allotted to first-class passengers. The first-class half is painted blue outside and numbered, and the other half drab, also numbered as to class. You are also annoyed at the clouds of cigarette smoke, caused by the universal habit of smoking in the cars, at the table and almost everywhere else. There are no smoking rooms, not even in the hotels. Women, without regard to rank, all join in. Travel is generally by second class; the peasants by the third, with very little difference, except in fare, between the first and second class. In the first you have more elbow room and freedom from bumps. Should you be lucky enough, as it were, to secure ahead the exclusive use of a compartment you can be very comfortable indeed."

Skilled Wood-Workers.
It is well known that the Japanese are remarkably skillful in wood, ivory and other carving, but a well-authenticated story which has just come from Japan would indicate that the wily Jap does not confine himself to the beaten paths in the exercise of his ingenuity. It appears that a gentleman who was traveling in the interior of the country broke the mainspring of his watch, which he took to the nearest jeweler, a native who lived in an obscure village. Somewhat to his surprise the watch was returned to him apparently in as good running order as ever, and it ran all right until the rainy season set in, when it stopped. Being in the city of Tokio at the time, the traveler took the watch to an English workman, who on making an examination was astonished to find that the cunning Jap had put in a spring made of bamboo, which, so long as it was kept dry, remained elastic, but during the wet weather had gathered dampness and lost its power.

Important to Breeders!
BOZERO!
(8560J)
Will make a limited season for 1891

DESCRIPTION.
BOZERO was foaled March 15, 1887. He is a hand some sorrel with star in face and white legs; of splendid conformation; stands 15 1/2 hands; has great power and substance and is of the highest finish. His disposition is remarkably good, and he is very intelligent. These fine traits, together with his excellent blood-lines, will make him one of the finest stall-gelders in Nevada.

TERMS $30 FOR THE SEASON
With usual return privileges.
The best of care taken of mares in any manner that the owner may desire, but no responsibility assumed for accidents or escapes.

As rounders are a ready sale, and are fast taking the place of the big and heavy mares, and Clydes, breeders should improve the opportunity of getting a saleable colt by breeding to BOZERO.

For further particulars, inquire of R. C. LEEPER, RENO, NEVADA.

The Standard Trotting Stallion, ROMEYN 6256.
Will make the Season of 1891, from April 1st to July 1st, at
